PADUCAH WILL GET SOME OF THE WORK

Department Heads of Illinois
Central Meet Monday.

Will Outline Plans for Distribution of Fiscal Appropriation Among Divisions.

LOCAL NEWS FROM RAILROADS.

There will be an annual meeting of superintendents, roadmasters and master mechanics of the Illinois Central road on Monday morning at 10 o'clock in Chicago, and Superintendent A. H. Egan, Roadmaster F. L. Thompson and Master Mechanic R. J. Turnbull, of the Louisville division of the road, will go.

The object of the meeting is to discuss the fiscal year just closed, proposed improvements and the business of the system in general. Every superintendent, roadmaster and master mechanic is expected to be in attendance. Improvements will be suggested and plans made for outlining the disposition of the appropriation for the new fiscal year. The road carries on its improvements much as do municipalities, appropriating so much money to each department and division.

Paducah will probably be directly interested in the meeting as the Louisville division will come in for some of the improvements to be suggested.

Engineers "go slow" over the Tennessee street crossing since the accident Thursday morning which injured two women, and the greatest of caution is exercised. Orders have been issued, requiring engineers to have their engines entirely under control—to be able to stop in a few feet. The whistle is blown at intervals on the approach.

H. R. Safford, assistant chief engineer of the Illinois Central, passed through the city at noon from the south en route to Louisville on business. Mr. Safford is making a tour of the road, looking after the many improvements to be made.

BAR ASSOCIATION

Passes Resolutions on Death of Hon. D. L. Sanders.

We, your committee respectfully report the following resolutions to-wit:

Be it resolved by the members of the bar, and the officials of McCracken county, that we have heard of the death of Judge D. L. Sanders with profound sorrow, and sadly realize that in his demise the bar has been deprived of one of its most distinguished and worthy members, and the city, which had so long and signally honored him, has lost one of its most vigilant, conservative, trustworthy and fearless officials, whose place upon the bench it will be difficult to supply and that society at large has sustained an irreparable loss to its citizenship. Whether upon the bench, presiding as a court, or at the bar as an attorney or commingling with his friends upon the streets, his deportment was ever gentle and kind towards all with whom he came in contact.

Second: That we tender to the relatives and members of the bereaved family of our departed brother our deepest and truest sympathy, and ask that a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be presented to his family as a mark of our friendship and esteem.

Third: That these resolutions be presented to the judges of the McCracken circuit, and county courts and to the Paducah police court with the request that they be spread upon the records of their respective courts on pages set apart and dedicated to that purpose, and that they be published in the Paducah Daily Sun, the News-Democrat and The Paducah Daily Register.

Counselling a Reporter.

Many years ago the late Sir John Macdonald, premier of Canada, was present at a public dinner at which he was expected to deliver a rather important speech. In the conviviality of the occasion he forgot the more serious duty of the evening, and when, at a late hour, he rose, his speech was by no means so luminous as it might have been. The reporter, knowing that it would not do to print his notes as they stood, called on Sir John next day and told him that he was not quite sure of having secured an accurate report. He was invited to read over his notes, but he had not gone far when Sir John interrupted him with "That is not what I said." "Let me repeat my remarks," he then walked up and down the room and delivered a most impressive speech in the hearing of the amused reporter, who took down every word as it fell from his lips. Having thanked Sir John for his courtesy, he was taking his leave when he was recalled to receive this admonition: "Young man, allow me to give this word of advice: Never again attempt to report a public speaker when you are drunk."

Something, Anyhow.

A well-known humorist writer was entertaining a friend at his apartment one evening recently.

"Will you have a cigar?" he asked the visitor.

"Yes, I will, thanks," was the response.

Investigation proved, however, that the box was empty.

"Say, if you got a quarter I'll send the boy out for a couple," the writer suggested.

"Dead broke," was the discouraging reply.

The humorist pondered for a minute, then his face lit up, and, throwing open his typewriter cabinet, he rattled the machine at a lively rate for a short time.

"That'll fix it," he said, waving a sheet of paper. "There's a joke that will pay for a dozen cigars."

"But you have to sell the joke first," the friend protested.

The smile faded from the other's face.

"That's so, I forgot that," he said sadly. "But I tell you what," he added brightening up, "we'll read the joke!"—American Spectator.

She Knew Hiram's Voice.

An astonishingly fat couple boarded a Chicago sleeper not long ago, and secured two berths—the upper and lower of a section. It was with considerable difficulty that the man achieved his lofty couch, but it was at last accomplished, and the car sank to rest.

About the middle of the night the train was sidetracked for a short while, and, as it happened, was shunted in beside a car loaded with very much discomfited and protesting hogs the noise of whose bewailing ascended to the stars.

"Oh, Lawd!" the occupant of the lower berth was heard to groan: "Jest listen to that! Hiram has started snoring, and I can't get up there to make him turn over!"—American Spectator.

WAR ON LOAFERS TO START MONDAY

Chief Collins Issues Ultimatum to "Never Sweats."

Will Enforce Vagrancy Law Against All Who Have No Visible Means of Support.

GREAT DEMAND FOR LABORERS

All "moochers," loafers, bums, and those who refuse to work, of both color will have to take to some honorable means of a livelihood by Monday or suffer the consequences.

This is the edict published from the office of Chief of Police James Collins this morning and "it goes." It is the result of a suggestion which appeared in the columns of The Sun and is a very satisfactory move, which will be generally lauded.

The fact that hundreds of both white and black men loaf about the saloons and public places refusing to work has necessitated this action, and it is work, leave town or serve a term in the city prison for vagrancy. The traction company and other corporations which have experienced trouble in securing labor had to import men to do their work. Yet there are many in Paducah who are not working and who are nuisances because of the fact.

"What I want to do is to rid the city of all objectionable characters, and those who will not work will have to suffer the consequences," Chief Collins declared this morning. "We are tired of seeing these loafers hanging about. I will summon every 'bum' before Police Judge E. H. Puryear Monday, when we see them idle and it will not be merely a threat this time. They will go, and I expect to do quite a business next week."

SCHOOLS GET $20,914.80.

Paducah's Pro Rata of State School Fund.

A circular from the state superintendent's office shows that Kentucky schools this year will receive $3.30 for each school child, the largest appropriation ever made the schools by the state. Paducah schools will receive $20,914.80, the school census of Paducah being 6,343.
